

New Jersey Health Foundation through Foundation Venture Capital Group is excited to announce the first investment in a company formed by researchers at Princeton University. Mark Esposito and Yiban Kang are talented, enthusiastic researchers and the founders of KayoThera.

KayoThera is developing new therapeutics to give hope to one of the most vulnerable patient populations – people with late-stage or metastatic cancers.

With these novel therapies, KayoThera aims to cure incurable cancers and give hope back to patients.